Slammin' Sliders Food Truck

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 9, 2011 AT 7:07AM

Went to the Food Trucks last night on Main Street in Santa Monica and amongst a sea of taco and burrito trucks I chose the sliders from the Slammin' Sliders food truck. I did, however, go for a different version of the slider with their Pink Pepper Crusted Lobster Slider. I also tried out their seasoned fries (because they ran out of their Sweet Potato Pepper Jack Croquettes) and their red cabbage coleslaw. Everything was really tasty and I didn't feel greasy or super full afterwards. It was just enough food and wasn't too bad in price - around $12 for everything. I will definitely look out for this truck again.
